OUR SERVICES:

Apprenticeships

Apprenticeships are work-based training programmes that can be used to train both new members of staff and existing employees. This allows them to gain nationally recognised qualifications. Training takes place both in the workplace and at Alliance Learning. Our Subject Specialist Tutors design the curriculum and off-the-job training with you, right from the start to meet your business needs.

ESF Fully Funded Training

In 2019, we were successful in securing funding for the delivery of the 2019-2021 European Social Fund (ESF) programme. Working in partnership with The Growth Company, Skills Support for the Workforce funding can now provide businesses based in Lancashire FULLY FUNDED training to develop their business and staff. This includes NVQ's and bespoke training courses (subject to eligibility).

Training Courses

Our Training Courses are designed to meet the needs of businesses and employees, encouraging continuous professional development. We specialise in sectors such as Health and Safety, First Aid, Plant, Engineering and Professional Development. We can deliver courses at our site in Horwich or at your company's premises (subject to site survey).

Foundation Degree in Early Years Childhood Studies

We are currently working in partnership with The University of Bolton to deliver the Foundation Degree in Early Years Childhood Studies Level 4 & 5. This is a work-based course that enables learners to further develop their skills of working with young children and help broaden job opportunities. This course combines lectures, group work and workshop sessions with independent learning.

HOW COULD AN APPRENTICE HELP MY BUSINESS?

Reduce recruitment and training costs

Training is often more cost effective than hiring pre-skilled staff, however we also offer a free recruitment service for businesses looking to take on apprentices.

Avoid skills shortages

The training can be tailored to help you and develop people with the specialist skills that your business needs for future development.

Motivated and loyal workers

Apprentices are eager, motivated, hard-working and loyal to the company that invest in them. An apprentice is working for your company because they have chosen this route into employment and are committed to learning the job.

Increased productivity

Apprentices often bring new ideas which can, in turn, help improve productivity and efficiency within an organisation.

HOW MUCH DOES IT COST?

Apprenticeships are funded by the Government, however an employer contribution will be required depending on the age and occupational area of the apprentice.

Contact us on 01204 677888 to find out more.

WHAT ARE MY RESPONSIBILITIES AS AN EMPLOYER?

When hiring an apprentice you must:

- Provide a robust induction to the company and the job role.
- Pay at least the National Minimum Wage for apprentices (currently £4.15 per hour).
- Provide in-house training to complement the Apprenticeship.
- Mentor the apprentice to provide support through the training.
- Provide a safe working environment.
- Allow apprentices to attend 20% off-the-job training.
- Provide a contract of employment for the full duration of the Apprenticeship programme.

Case Study - Aptus Utilities

Alliance Learning have proved consistently adept at identifying ideal apprentices for Aptus Utilities and have become our learning provider of choice. We have used them since our launch in 2010, and have found the apprentices to be enthusiastic and capable additions to our team. We have taken on more than 10 apprentices with Alliance Learning in recent years, who have met the high standards we require in our niche market of multi utility connections. A number of the apprentices have gone on to specialise in key areas and are helping shape the business for the future.

APPRENTICESHIP FUNDING REFORMS

In May 2017, the Government changed the way Apprenticeships in England were funded. Some employers are now required to contribute to the Apprenticeship Levy. The levy requires all employers in the UK, with a pay bill over £3 million each year, to invest in apprenticeships. It is paid at a rate of 0.5% of an employer's wage bill, and is paid through Pay As You Earn (PAYE).

Here are things you need to know about the funding reforms:

- If you have a wage bill in excess of £3 million per annum, you will be paying into the levy.
- The levy is charged at a rate of 0.5% of your annual wage bill.
- There is a £15,000 allowance and your contribution will be held in a digital account.
- You have 24 months to spend the money in your digital account.
- If you don't pay into the levy, the Government will pay 95% of the cost of the Apprenticeship, the employer must pay the remaining 5% as a cash contribution.
- If you have unspent levy money, you can transfer up to 25% of this money for other companies to use for Apprenticeship training.
- If you are a small employer with under 50 staff, the Government will pay 100% of the cost of the Apprenticeship for apprentices aged 16-18 years old.
- Employers must allow the apprentice 20% time away from their job for 'off-the-job' training. This is 20% of the apprentice's contracted hours across the whole Apprenticeship.

We wanted to re-energise our Customer Service team, reminding them how to deliver exceptional service and learn some new skills along the way. We enlisted the support of Alliance Learning who took the time to understand our requirements, build our brief and deliver a great training session.

The trainer was very good at bringing the training to life. He was articulate and kept the team engaged. The team all gave feedback on how much they enjoyed the training and almost all took something away to implement. The trainer had a great use of activities to carry the training along to keep the training interesting.

The communication with Alliance Learning was excellent and we wouldn't hesitate to use them again.
